ing situation in the State is thus summed up in the report:

"The State owes the duty to its citizens of establishing ante-mortem and post-mortem inspections by competent veterinary surgeons of all cattle, sheep, goats and swine whose carcasses may be intended for human consumption. There is no question that in the absence of this inspection, except in a very few places in the State, the general public is often given diseased or unwholesome meat. The heat the meats are subjected to in preparing them for the table has been the sole real preyentive of the transmission of many diseases.

His visit, was brief, but he found time to have a chat with John Armstrong Chaloner, of Merry Mills, whose latest public utterances are highly in favor of the revolutionists. Mr. Chaloner was particularly interested in the Constitutionalist prospect. In reply to his questions, young Hermandez assured him that the party would win, but, unless the embargo is lifted, the fight will be prolonged for some time.

INSANITY AMONG NEGROES GROWING

That insanity among the negro population is increasing steadily is the torneys of the various counties of the declaration made in the annual report declaration made in the annual report of Dr. William F. Drewry, superintendent of the Central State Hospital, petersburg, which was filed yesterday with Governor Mann. This alarming gain of mental deficiency Dr. Drewry ascribes to congenital disease and the bad habits of parents. The statement is backed up by figures furnished by the superintendent.

The report shows that on October 1.

The report shows that on October 1 there were 1,556 insane negrões being cared for in the Central State Hospital. In 1912 the report gave 1,457 as the total number of inmates. Basing his statement on the record of years, Dr. Drewry estimates that more than Dr. Drewry estimates that more than 1,600 inmates will be sheltered in this hospital next year. He complains of the crowded condition of the hospital, and presents in urgent terms the need for immediate additions and repairs to the hospital building. Under existing circumstances, he says, it is impossible to give the inmates the proper care and treatment.

kind, and no uninspected meats or meat food products should be permitted to be sold in the State. To-day it is an easy thing for a man owning a sick or injured animal, or a herd of hogs in which cholera has broken out, to get his stock into the hands of an unscrupulous butcher, who will kill and sell them for food purposes, after eliminating the visibly diseased portions. Have you any security that you will not get diseased meats unless you can have it inspected?"

In closing the section of the report relating to Virginia's "Jungle," the commissioner prophesies a fight for better legislation on this matter, and calls upon the people to come to the aid of those waging the battle for pure foods.

Antonio, the younger, remained here, and is now a freshman in the Medical College of Virginia.

The two boys have one brother, Colloner the forces of General Carranza, and has been constantly at his side. He participated in the capture of Torreon and is now in consumand of 1,500 men in front of Monterey. Another brother is a captain on the staff of General Carranza.

Carlos has not joined the Constitutionalists in the role of a fighter, but its high in their councils. At a recent meeting of the general board Dr. H. U. The city of Petersburg recently filed with the State Corporation Commission a petition in regard to the meth-od of taxation of rolling stock, the proceeding being had with a view of determining the validity of an act of the General Assembly of 1912, directing he apportionment of this tax between the counties and cities through which the railroad runs. Heretofore the tax has been assessed at the city in which the principal offices of the railroad company was located. Petersburg claimed the principal offices in this State of the Atlantic Coast Line and Seaboard Air Line, and in its petition those two railroads and the various counties and cities through which they operate and which hope to receive hereafter a portion of the rolling stock tax, were made defendants. The test case, however, affects all counties in the State through which railroads operate. The object of the conference of Comonwealth attorneys is to outline a joint plan of defense and to select
